LiquiHeel™
Heel Crack Treatment

Do you suffer from Cracked Heels or Heel Fissures?

This could be the answer...

For many, this is a commonly occurring condition particularly in the spring and summer months, so if you suffer, you are not alone.

There are treatments available using various lotions and creams along with strapping techniques used by some professionals such as Podiatrists.

None of these provide a comprehensive solution to the problem.

Now your local Podiatrist/Chiropodist can.

Using a specially formulated medical adhesive called LiquiHeel™ successful treatments have been carried out in conjunction with the University of Southampton that provide instant pain relief and effective and long lasting fissure closure.
